What is personal information?

Personal information is any information about you that identifies you or information by which your identity can be reasonably deduced.

Why do we collect personal information?

For statistical purposes MOCA collects information on website activity (such as the number of users who visit the website). This information on its own does not identify an individual but may provide MOCA with statistics that we can use to improve our website.

MOCA must keep a register of all current financial members, including:

Name, Address, Phone or Mobile Number, Email Address, Class of Membership, Joining Date and Date of Not Re-Joining as required by law under the Association Incorporation Reform Act 2012.

We may also collect information to enable us to communicate with you about the club, its activities and the matters that you have expressed interest in. If we receive an email from you, we will record your email address, but we will only use it for the purpose for which it was provided. We will not knowingly or intentionally disclose your information to any other organisation or non-club party without your consent.

Sharing information with other members

The settings have been established to allow limited membership information to be available to current members of MOCA.

Information in a member's "My Directory Profile" is available to other Members, if they have agreed to share that information, when they are logged in to their account. Members should not share this information with non-members.

Ensuring your personal information is up to date

We will take all reasonable steps to ensure that your personal information is accurate, up to date and complete whenever we collect or use it.

You may contact us at any time to update your personal information or tell us the information is incomplete or inaccurate, or login and amend your details in "My Profile"
